

Lazure Painting Workshop

Experience this unique painting method - utilizing layers of translucent color on walls. Subtle or bold, it moves freely through the spectrum of color in an endless variety of ways. This inspiring technique brings walls to life, allowing them to "breathe". Lazure painting enhances living and work spaces and may be used therapeutically and to support child development. Like color in nature, Lazure is enlivening to the eye and soothing and relaxing for the soul.

Emerson Waldorf School

6211 New Jericho Road
Chapel Hill, NC

email: main.office@emersonwaldorf.org

919-967-1858

Fee - $150 for the weekend workshop limited space

May 21 - 23, 2010

Robert Logsdon is a Master Lazure artist, recognized as the first to carry this work from Europe, where he apprenticed under the most knowledgeable practitioner. He has nurtured, promoted, and taught Lazure (a word he Americanized from the German Lasur) in the United States since the 1970s. His work can be seen throughout the United States and Europe. You may view his work on the web site.

www.lazurebylogsdon.com - logsdonlazure@aol.com

413.394.9949

sponsored by ColorSpace

